

Clover Duo Station

Dual-Screen POS System

Two Screens (Merchant & Customer):

The Station Duo includes the same large 14" HD merchant-facing touchscreen plus a second 7"-8" customer-facing display. The customer display allows patrons to confirm their order, see the transaction total, select a tip, and sign or enter PIN on their side – speeding up checkout and enhancing engagement.

Enhanced Customer Experience:

With the customer-facing screen, customers can independently swipe, dip, or tap their card on the Mini-like device, follow prompts to pay, opt for a receipt, and even redeem loyalty or enter an email – all without turning the station or sharing the merchant screen. This makes lines move faster since the cashier can ring up the next sale while the previous customer completes payment on the second screen.

Integrated Printer & Cash Drawer:

The Duo bundle comes with a high-speed printer and cash drawer included (same as Solo). Receipts print quickly for customers, and the cash drawer is automatically triggered for cash transactions, making the checkout smooth.

Accepts Every Payment Method:

Customers can pay via credit/debit (magstripe swipe or EMV chip), contactless cards, and mobile wallets on the customer-facing device. Additionally, Clover Duo supports newer payment options like PayPal/Venmo QR code payments on the customer screen – offering great flexibility that appeals to modern consumers.

Security & Speed:

End-to-end encryption, tokenization, and integrated EMV chip sensors protect each transaction. The dual-screen setup not only looks professional but also increases speed – while one customer is paying on the second screen, the cashier can prepare the next sale. The system's robust processing power means it can handle these simultaneous tasks with ease.

Scalable and Expandable:

The Station Duo can anchor a whole store setup – you can add additional Clover Minis or Flex devices and they all sync together. It has plenty of I/O ports for peripherals (scanner, scale, kitchen printer, etc.). It's effectively future-proof: as your business grows, the Clover ecosystem grows with you, and Station Duo remains the hub of a fast, secure, and customer-friendly checkout process.
